- Citation Quick Guide
Step 1. From the James J Kelly homepage click on “EBSCOhost Databases”

Step 2. Choose the database(s) that you would like to search. If you wish to search all, click the check box at the top that says “Select/Deselect All”
Step 3. Perform your search using the “Basic Search” or the “Advanced Search.”

Step 4. Click the title of the article you want. This will bring you to the detailed record.

Step 5. Under the tools menu will be a list of options, one of which is “Permalink.” Click on this option.
Step 6. The permalink for this article will appear above the title. You can then copy and paste this into your document.

DOI Alternative In some cases, the DOI of an article can be near the end of the detailed record. However, not all articles found on EBSCOhost will have a DOI.
LIRN (Gale InfoTrac)

Step 1: From the James J Kelly homepage, click on “LIRN Databases” and then on “InfoTrac.”
Step 2: All the databases will be selected, if you only want to search one or two databases, uncheck the “Select All” box and then select the database(s) you want and proceed with your search.

Step 3: Click the title of the article that you want; this will bring up the detailed record.
Step 4: There are two ways to access the permalink. At the bottom of the detailed record will be the “Document URL.” You can copy and paste this to your document. The other way to get the permalink is to click on the “Bookmark this Document” link. The permalink will popup (you may have to enable popups for this page). You can then copy and paste this link into your document.
LIRN (ProQuest)

Step 1: From the James J Kelly homepage, click on “LIRN Databases” and select “ProQuest.”
Step 2: Perform your search using the “Basic Search” or the “Advanced Search.”

Step 3: Click the title of the article that you want; this will bring up the detailed record. Scroll to the bottom of the detailed record. This record contains both the DOI and the Document URL. Copy and paste the DOI or Document URL into your document.
CREDO Reference

Step 1: From the James J Kelly homepage, click on “All Databases” and scroll down to “CREDO Reference” (or click “C” at the top of the page)

Step 2: Perform your search using either the “Basic Search” or the “Advanced Search.”
Step 3: Click on the title of the article and scroll to the bottom. Copy and paste the URL into your document.

In the absence of first-class nursing and intensive care, not many animals (other than cattle) recover from tetanus. If an animal regains the ability to drink, that can be regarded as a favourable sign.

Step 1: From the James J Kelly homepage, click on “All Databases” and scroll down to “JSTOR” (or click “J” at the top of the page).

Step 2: Perform your search using the “Basic” or “Advanced Search” options. Click on the title of the article. This will bring you to the detailed record. Under the tools menu click “View Citation.”
Step 3: Copy and Paste the “Article Stable URL” or the “Article DOI” into your document.
LexisNexis

Step 1: From the James J Kelly homepage, click on “All Databases” and scroll down to “LexisNexis” (or click “L” at the top of the page)

Step 2: Perform your search using the “Basic” or “Advanced Search” options. Click on the title of the article. This will bring you to the detailed record. On the top right of the document will be six icons. Click the second to the last icon.
Step 3: A similar box to below will pop up. This box will give you the directions on how to add the link to your document.
Citation Quick Guide

This quick guide is specifically designed for articles with permalinks. In most cases, the DOI is preferred, but the permalink can be used too. For more in-depth information on these citation styles, please refer to Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (APA style handbook), MLA Handbook for Writers of Research Papers (MLA style handbook), or A Manual for Writers of Research Papers, Theses, and Dissertations: Chicago Style for Students and Researchers (Chicago style handbook).
